Masterpieces of light

It is not only the work that generates meaning. There are several steps to approach it, the look that focus and goes through it, the perception of the outline space where we find ourselves. The walls, the ceiling, the gap in between are part of the scene. And the scene gradually became clearer, sharp, lighted.

Turned into color, transparencies, translucencies and reflections, every chandelier is an exclusive work that tells about the creativity of the artist and his personal research. Each chandelier is unique (in different sizes and 20 different colors), completely made by hand, a piece of contemporary design, and an art work.
